

G. N. HAS TAKEN 3905 TO COAST

"Business for the season has been much more encouraging than for the year preceding. Without doubt, under normal conditions, we would have been able to run through the entire season," said Fred L. Waldron, president of the local agency for the Great Northern, Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., this morning. "We expect to see the Great Northern resume the island run next fall, as the company does not believe it likely that her services will be required by the government."

Figures compiled by Ticket Agent Fred Lamb of the local agency show that the Great Northern has taken 3904 more passengers away from Honolulu than she has brought to this port since her first arrival this season, on November 14, 1916. The passenger liner has brought to this port 3904 passengers in all classes and has taken to the coast, or will have taken when she leaves on her last voyage of the season, a grand total of 3905 in all classes.

The largest number coming here on any one voyage this season was when the Hill liner arrived here January 30, with 545 in all classes. This was the trip before the 1917 Carnival.

Outgoing, the largest number leaving this season was on the February 25 sailing, the day after the Carnival closed. She then steamed with 703 passengers. The following trip, March 15, she took off 694, on April 3, 645, and there are now booked for the final sailing of the season 502 passengers in all classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldron are leaving on the final outgoing trip and will live in San Francisco for the next four or five months.

MUSEUM GETS RELIC

MEXICO CITY, Mexico.—The private railway car formerly used by President Benito Juarez and later used by President Lerdo de Tejada has been presented to the National Museum by Gen. Heriberto Jara. The car, which was made in England over 50 years ago, is a beautiful piece of workmanship. The interior decorations representing incidents in the life of St. Patrick. When the Constitutional army left Mexico City for Vera Cruz in 1914 the car was pressed into use and has been in operation throughout the campaign since that time.

BY AUTHORITY TERRITORY OF HAWAII

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF AGRICULTURE AND FORESTRY.

RULE X.

DIVISION OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

Rule and Regulation of the Board of Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry concerning the quarantine of all domestic animals on the island of Kauai on account of Anthrax and Hemorrhagic Septicemia.

Owing to the fact that diseases known as Anthrax or Charbon, and Hemorrhagic Septicemia, which affect most classes of domestic animals, and the former of which may be transmitted to man, have made their appearance on the island of Kauai, it is hereby ordered:

Sec. 1. That there is hereby declared a quarantine of the island of Kauai, and no domestic or other animal of any class or kind shall be shipped from nor be allowed to leave the island of Kauai until this quarantine has been lifted by the Board of Agriculture and Forestry.

Sec. 2. That the Territorial Veterinarian shall provide special quarantine on such sections of the island of Kauai where these diseases are prevalent. Such special quarantine to be enforced in accordance with the direction of the Territorial Veterinarian.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of any person, or persons, whether owner of live stock or not, to report without delay the appearance of any kind of disease among live stock to the Territorial Veterinarian, his assistant or deputy, as well as to assist him in every way to locate, control and suppress any and all cases of the diseases in question.

Sec. 4. Any person violating the above rule shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00), as provided by Sec. 529, Revised Laws of Hawaii of 1915.

This rule shall take effect upon its approval by the Governor of Hawaii. Approved this 20th day of April, 1917.

SCOUT MOVEMENT HAS A YEAR OF GREAT PROGRESS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 8.—How the Boy Scout movement is advancing in all parts of the United States, and how scout training is making its impression on the character and efficiency of boys were strikingly revealed at the seventh annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America held here this week. This council, composed of eminent men of government, officials, governors of states, college presidents, school superintendents, pastors, priests, rabbis—received reports which show that in the past year a total of 245,073 boys and men were registered as scouts and scout officials as compared with 181,522 on December 31, 1915. Of these 54,315 were adults—scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, members of troop committees and of local scout councils.

Another interesting disclosure was that whereas, prior to January 1, 1916, 42 men had been employed to give expert direction to scout work in various cities in the United States, 42 new men were employed in 1916, a gain of 195 per cent. This means that communities, having had evidence of the value of the scout program to the boy himself, to his home, to his neighborhood, his city, state and nation, have been willing and ready to contribute the small amount that is necessary to maintain a local headquarters of scouting, under the direction of a man specially trained for scout leadership and able to give encouragement and practical assistance to the hundreds of volunteers who are ever ready to help in this fascinating work with boys when the way is pointed out.

And yet but the beginning. Remarkable as has been the growth of the scout movement in the past year, the director of field work, E. A. Moffat, pointed out in his report that organization work had scarcely begun, because in only 31 of the 700 cities in the country of 10,000 population and over, have scout councils of the first class been organized and men employed to handle the executive work, though 231 other cities have councils of the second class, without employed executives. Nearly all of the cities having councils of the second class are eager to have assistance from the national staff so they may complete their organizations and provide the leadership that is necessary to make scouting of maximum benefit to the boys of their cities.

In view of this report, and the abundant testimony that was submitted showing the universal approval of scouting as a means of training boys for good citizenship, the national council adopted a definite appeal to the citizens of the United States for financial assistance to provide adequate staff of field secretaries to go about the country and assist cities and towns everywhere to carry out their organization work, enlisting volunteer leadership and providing for its expert direction. In this way the movement hopes to reach with the benefits of scouting the 8,000,000 boys of scout age in the United States.

Longest Way Round Is Now Shortest

Residents in the Pierpoint Hotel, Cressaty's, Delvey road and John Ena tract districts on Kala road, Waikiki, just east of Fort De Russy, this week suddenly have come to realize that war is all that Gen. Sherman said it was. Some of them (then only of course) mentioned the short and expressive word twice; first when they found Kala road blocked on both sides of the fort and second, and worst of all, when they learned late yesterday afternoon that the popular old trail across the government reservation and the duck ponds from Kala road to the car line at Kalakaua avenue and Cassidy station was suddenly "tabu."

To effectively close off the passage-way the army people took the quickest and surest way possible. One of the broader bridges over one of the deepest, dirtiest and muckiest swamps channels was torn up. Crossing was impossible. No one was placed on Kalakaua avenue to warn residents of that vicinity and some hurrying home went in headlong. Then they walked clear back to John Ena road and went home that way. Rapid Transit passengers who get off at Cassidy station should now stop nearer John Ena road when the street car first arrives on Kalakaua avenue. Down John Ena road is the only way now.

Speaking of the army's most recent action in that vicinity Gen. F. S. Streng said this morning that it was only one of many precautionary measures. The whole military reservation at Fort De Russy, and Fort Armstrong, too, may later be enclosed by barbed wire, he says.

EVANGELIST SUNDAY TO OPEN RECRUITING AGENCY IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"Billy" Sunday's agents announced recently that the evangelist was ready to open a recruiting station in the tabernacle in which he will begin his sermons Sunday. The tabernacle will seat 20,000 persons.

Christianity and patriotism will be combined at the services, it was said, and Sunday will arrive here under a banner reading: "Christ and your country need you."

MAY KILL PHEASANTS

LONDON, Eng.—The government has issued an order giving farmers permission to kill pheasants because the birds are taking food required for human consumption. Pheasant shooting parties have been organized.

OLAA IS STRONG IN LOCAL MARKET

In dealings of 770 shares of listed stock on the local exchange and reported on today's stock sheet, Olan furnished the bulk of the day's business, 455 shares, and rose from 14 3/4 to 15 1/8. Generally the listed stocks were strong and steady. Prices on sales were Waiwala 31 3/4, Oahu 29 3/4, Ewa 27 7/8, Oahu Railway 106 and Pioneer 28 1/2.

Among the unlisted stocks Mineral Products showed some weakness and sold at 83 cents. There was no change in the price of either Engels Copper or OJL, the former selling at 57 1/8 and the latter at 33 1/2. Madera was 27 cents, Mountain King at 25 cents and Montana-Bingham was quoted at 35 3/8 38 cents.

SALES OF INTOXICANTS WILL STOP AT SEVEN

No alcoholic or intoxicating liquors or beverages will be sold or served in the Elks' Club after 7 o'clock evenings beginning Monday evening. Non-intoxicating beverages will be sold and served until the usual closing hour of the club. This action was determined upon by the house committee at a meeting held Thursday evening and the notice was posted yesterday. No action by the lodge members was required as the control of the house and club is within the jurisdiction of the house committee which can make and amend house rules for the government of the club and the new hours announced are merely an amendment of an already existing house rule.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BUCKEYE CLUB SOON

The annual meeting of the Buckeye Club will be held at the home of W. D. Westervelt, 2963 Kalakaua avenue, Waikiki, Thursday evening, April 26, at 7. There will be a reception in honor of Lucien O. Warner, Ill., D. of New York, formerly of Oberlin, and E. A. Adams, D. D., the American board missionary in Bohemia, and Dr. J. H. Williams. No postal cards will be sent to club members. All Ohioans, whether members of the club or not, are urged to come.

Science Unites with Fashion to Create a New Era in Bed Designing

ONE of the most important items of news published recently appears in the current Ladies' Home Journal on the news-stands. This item is a full page story of the Simmons Bed. The facts cited in the story prove that a revolution in bed manufacture has taken place, and that this revolution so vitally affects style in bedroom furnishings that no woman can afford to overlook it.

These basic points of manufacture determine the superiority of the Simmons Bed:—

Flawless enamel finish on steel—giving a surface which is practically everlasting.

Electric welding, doing away with all nuts and bolts; so avoiding all rattling.

All-steel tube, making bed one-third lighter than the former type of "iron" bed. This tube will endure forever.

Frictionless casters which assure the bed moving at a touch. Easy on rugs.

Simmons Beds are shown in all the "modern art" designs as well as in Period styles. Coloring to suit every imaginable room. Cribs, twin beds, plain beds for servants' rooms, handsome beds for guest chambers—every kind of bed a home can need is in the Simmons line.

The fact that this store has so promptly stocked these new and desirable beds proves that we present with the utmost promptness all the novel fashions and merchandise that the best makers produce.

We urge you to see this large and interesting display now.

Prices range from $4.50 to $38.00
